

Products which were never available to me before XM radio because networks either didn't care or were not willing to provide are now being delivered to me because I was willing to pay for them. If these are taken away it delivers a great disservice to both me and the business's who were interested in providing what the market wanted. What is happening to free markets and free choice? Please reject the NAB petition. Alvar Aho